Independent Auditor's Report

The Board of Directors World Financial Group, Inc. New York, New York

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of World Financial Group, Inc. as of December 31, 2001 and 2000, and the related statements of income, changes in stockholder's equity and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2001 and from inception (October 29, 1999) through December 31, 2000. These financial statements are the representations of World Financial Group, Inc.'s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence to support the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of World Financial Group, Inc. as of December 31, 2001 and 2000, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2001 and the period October 29, 1999 through December 31, 2000 in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

The schedules of calculations of net capital and aggregate indebtedness, reconciliation of computation of net capital, computation for determination of the reserve requirements and information relating to the possession and control requirements, in this report, although not considered necessary for a presentation of financial position, are presented in order to conform to requirements of the Securities and Exchange Commission. This supplemental information has been subjected to the audit procedures applied in the examination of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

The Board of Directors World Financial Group, Inc. New York, New York

We have examined the financial statements of World Financial Group, Inc. as of December 31, 2001 and 2000 and have issued our report thereon dated February 8, 2002. As part of our examination, we reviewed and tested the system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and to use the reliability of financial records to prepare financial statements and maintain accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily required estimates and judgments by management.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal accounting control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgment, carelessness, or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by management with respect to the execution and recording of transactions or with respect to the estimates and judgments required in the preparation of the financial statements. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in condition, and that the degree of compliance with procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the periods ended December 31, 2001 and 2000, which was made for the purpose set forth in the first paragraph above, would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system which may have existed during the period under review. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the system of internal accounting control of World Financial Group, Inc. taken as a whole. However, our study and evaluation disclosed no condition that we believed to be a material weakness practical of correction.

This report is intended solely for the use of management, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the National Association of Securities Dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.

If you have any questions, we will be happy to discuss them with you.

Sincerely

Still Well & associates
Los Angeles, California
